

June 17, 2020

Dear Residents and Families of The Springs Living,

Having a professional culinary team to serve you is just one of the reasons that living in a community is safer for older adults. In this week's Virtual Town Hall on our YouTube channel, I speak with The Springs Living Culinary Services Director Sam Currie.

Sam answers questions about what The Springs has been doing to keep residents well-fed and socializing during meals while maintaining the safety protocols of COVID-19. He also touches on which changes in dining services are likely to be adapted by our communities and restaurants for the long-term.

Last, please refer to our website for updates on COVID-19. We have been proactively searching for COVID-19 through surface testing in our communities. When it is found, we are immediately taking action with sanitizing buildings and testing residents and staff. Although this results in seeing our number of cases go up, it is helping us identify those who are asymptomatic or pre-symptomatic – helping us defend against the virus.

Be well,

Fee Stubblefield
Founder & CEO